Private Track Club LeMans Karting Now Open for Public Racing

LeMans Karting Greenville Now Offers Races to General Public.

Greenville, SC (July 18, 2014) - LeMans Karting, an indoor go-kart racing and event center serving the Upstate, is now open to the general public, and has eliminated their private club membership fees for general session access. This change was triggered by the State's approval of the company's fast French-built racing karts for public use at their facility.

"The state of South Carolina has strict safety rules governing concession fun karts, but nothing allowing the use of the faster class of indoor racing karts that Europeans have enjoyed for years", said Rick Gaan, Co-owner of LeMans Karting. "We worked closely with the State of South Carolina to pioneer the use of Class 4 concession race karts, which are rated to 50 mph and are much faster than the fun karts commonly used in amusement parks", continued Mr. Gaan.

Until today, LeMans Karting operated as a private Members Only club while it worked with independent engineering firms and the State on new rules for overall facility, track, kart and procedural safety compliance. The state performed its inspections on July 18th, 2014, which LeMans Karting passed with ease.

"Now, everybody who can comfortably operate our karts can race at LeMans Karting without having to pay membership fees" said Jarvis Totherow, General Manager of LeMans Karting SC. "We will continue our membership program for those interested in our competition sprint race packages, exclusive league racing series, as well as special offers." said Mr. Totherow.

About LeMans Karting

Opening its first karting facility in Fremont, CA in 2002 and expanding to Greenville, SC in December 2013, LeMans Karting brings the thrill of real wheel-to-wheel racing excitement, indoors. Their European-built karts are rated to 50 miles per hour and are safe for use by drivers of all skill levels. LeMans Karting holds corporate team building events for companies such as BMW, Michelin, Apple, Cisco, Tesla and more. Popular also for private parties, racing leagues and arrive-&-drive racing, LeMans Karting is definitely a must do in the Upstate.
